COMM-124

Intercultural Communication

3 UNITS

3.0 hours lecture

The purpose of this course is to explore and learn about intercultural communication: the study of face-to-face communication between people from different cultural backgrounds, including those reflecting national or ethnic diversity. This course will utilize a culture-general approach, meaning that the focus will be in general principles of intercultural communication that are applicable across a broad spectrum of cultures and contexts. (C-ID COMM 150) (CSU/UC) (AA/AS-D, CSU-D, IGETC-4)

COMM-126

Communication Studies: Health and Wellness

3 UNITS

3.0 hours lecture

This introductory course provides students the opportunity to study and to apply principles and practices of health communication in a variety of contexts. Students will explore ways in which we communicate about health, cope with health-related problems, and influence one another's health-related behaviors. Specifically, topics cover provider-patient interaction, health and identity, the role of culture in health, health literacy, health in the work place, support networks, empathy, listening, and health campaigns. This course benefits all students interested in communication studies. The overall goal for this course is to prepare students to communicate effectively in their roles as health citizens, patients, personal and professional caregivers or healthcare providers. (CSU)

COMM-128

Global Communication

3 UNITS

3.0 hours lecture

This interdisciplinary course is a classroom-to-classroom exchange that offers participants the opportunity to grow as global citizens by developing relationships with students at a college in another country. The course merges the Communication, Education, and Information Technology disciplines to form a global communication content base that focuses on the improvement of cross-cultural communication skills. The principles of Cognitive Education Theory set the constructivist mode for the course, while the Theory of Technological Change takes the student on a historical journey of the evolution of technology from data processing to its current form, the merging of minds, technology and human-environment interaction. Theories from the communication field are the foundation for the real cross-cultural interaction that takes place in the course as well as the analysis of real life cultural context situations. Emphasis is placed on global factors that have brought cultures into frequent contact, specifically in the education, business and healthcare contexts, and how cultural and technological factors influence interaction in these environments. (CSU/UC) (AA/AS-D, CSU-D)

COMM-130

Fundamentals of Human Communication
